Instructions

Residential Loan Application for Reverse Mortgages

The lender uses this form to record relevant information about the security property and an applicant who applies for a reverse mortgage mortgage. Roman numerals in these instructions correspond to the sections on the form.

Copies

Original, plus one.

Printing Instructions

We provide the Residential Loan Application for Reverse Mortgages, Form 1009, in an electronic format that prints as a letter size document. However, lenders may print Form 1009 as a legal size document or with different fonts or margins that may affect pagination; we have no specific standards for the number or size of pages the form may have. Consequently, the number and size of pages will not affect compliance with Fannie Mae requirements pertaining to use of the Form 1009, provided that the content of the form has not been materially altered. When printing this form, you must use the "shrink to fit" option in the Adobe Acrobat print dialogue box.

Instructions

The lender should complete all blanks and attach any separate addenda, exhibits, details, or statements that are relevant to the application. The borrower(s) must sign the original application at the time it is completed. If the application is taken over the telephone or via the Internet, the borrower(s) must sign the completed application as soon as possible thereafter. However, an electronic signature or facsimile of the borrower's signature is acceptable as indicated in the "Acknowledgment and Agreement" section of the application. The lender should retain the original application with the supporting information provided by the borrower(s).

Before or at the loan closing, the borrower(s) must sign the final application that the lender prepares based on its verification of the information that the borrower(s) provided in the original application.

The instructions at the top of Form 1009 are consistent with the permissible inquiries that creditors are allowed to make under the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA). Although ECOA permits the lender in a community property state to obtain information regarding the liabilities of a borrower's spouse even though he or she is not applying for the mortgage and his or her income will not be considered for loan qualification purposes, we do not require the lender to obtain the information. This also means that in states where another person shares community property rights with the applicant, the lender does not need to include information on that person's liabilities if he or she is not an applicant.
